

To all known creditors

28 September 2021

Dear Sirs

Tomlinsons Dairies Limited - in administration (the Company)

I write to advise you that the period of the administration has been further extended by order of the court until 13 October 2022. I enclose form AM19 Notice of the extension of the period of administration.

A further extension to the period of the administration was requested as certain matters remain outstanding which would not have reached conclusion by the end of the administration period. The main outstanding matters are as follows:

Property: the property at Five Crosses Industrial Estate, Minera, is the main asset of the Company and remains to be realised. An initial offer accepted by the joint administrators during the first extension period was withdrawn, as a consensus with the prospective purchaser as to the terms of the sale could not be reached. A further offer has been received and accepted by the joint administrators and there are a number of outstanding matters to be resolved before contracts can be exchanged.

Book debts: the joint administrators continue to pursue the remaining book debts of the Company, including certain specific high-value receivable balances and finalising and documenting certain settlements with regards thereto;

Plant and machinery: asset sales were impeded by the impact of Covid-19 upon the decommissioning, marketing and sale of the Company's plant and machinery. Accordingly, there remains a small number of assets to be realised.

Thereafter, once the matters are concluded, the joint administrators will be required to:

- pay the outstanding costs and expenses of the administration;
- agree certain creditor claims in the administration and make a final distribution;
- deal with statutory matters and duties including the issue of a VAT deregistration form and submission of final tax returns; and
- complete all other administrative matters in order to finalise and close the administration.

If you have any queries, please contact my colleague, Alex La Dell at alex.la.dell@pwc.com

Yours faithfully
