Dear Sir/Madam

Cordant Technical Limited– in administration (“the Company”)

I am writing to you because you are a creditor of the Company. I can advise you that my receipts and payments account for the period from 2 September 2021 to 18 February 2022 has been approved by the Secured Creditors and they have authorised me to draw incurred and estimated future outlays as an expense of the administration. The Secured Creditors have also approved the proposed Scheme of Division included in Appendix E of our latest progress report available on our website at www.pwc.co.uk/cordantgroup.

Creditors may appeal against this determination, provided at least 25% in value of the total creditors do so. Any appeal should be made to the Court of Session in Edinburgh by 15 April 2022. Your solicitor should instruct any appeal in terms of the Insolvency (Scotland) Rules 1986. Please notify me of any intention to appeal. If no appeals are lodged by 15 April 2022, I will continue to pay expenses from the funds that I hold and proceed with declaring the dividend.

Information on the work I have done in the administration can be found in our six monthly progress reports, which are available to read on our website www.pwc.co.uk/cordantgroup. Should you have any queries about this letter, please do not hesitate to contact Syed Shah at uk\_cordantgroupcreditors@pwc.com.

Yours faithfully
For and on behalf of the Company
